    - Some slots are still available (6 people to sit on committees). For more information, please contact Amir or David.

- 5:40 | Guest Speaker
  - Renee Coleman-Mitchell, Executive Director of Cougar Health Services (CHS):
    - Mission: take care of all aspects of individuals’ health and wellness (mind, body, and other).
    - CHS rebranding:
      - One name, for students to recognize that based on their needs, they will be routed to the appropriate services.
      - It is an umbrella for all the services that that the center provides. Students need to know what their triggers are in terms of health, anxiety and depression in addition to their academic and professional capabilities.
      - Community, equity and inclusive excellence.
      - Basically all medical services are available except dental.
  - Organizational Changes
    - Behavioral health renamed Psychiatric Services under CAPS as a referral service
    - Dr. Jennifer Ellsworth is now officially director of CAPS
    - Dr. Bonnie de Vries is the new medical director.
  - Some renovations were done over the summer
• 1st floor medical clinic (stations for nurses to do more work with the students) as well as same day mental health services
• 3rd floor reception area was updated (it is all open now, no more locked doors) for access to counseling, behavioral health and violence prevention.

Services
• Transhealth: one provider right now, and advertising for another provider with trans health experience
• Potential trans health symposium - Spring 2019
• Focus on sexual health/awareness and mental health
• Aiming for more culturally appropriate counseling services
• When the center is closed, there are services (HealthiestYou and United Healthcare Telehealth) that gives grad and international students access to licensed medical doctors remotely.

New policies
• Partner and Spouse Services (PASS) - policy that provides health services to spouses/domestic partners or dependents of WSU graduate and international students. Partners now pay the regular fee instead of the previously hefty one, if they choose so.
• Update on counseling services for WSU clinical psychology doctoral students: individual counseling services are available to those. However, to minimize dual relationship (conflict of interest), doctoral students are eligible for either clinical training or counseling services at CAPS. They are not eligible to be both a client and a trainee concurrently.

They are trying to increase their reserves because eventually they will need a new building.
• Will potentially make evening services available for students, especially on Mondays

6:00 | Dialogue with Renee
  o Senator: If something happens over the weekend and we need medical access, what do students do?
    • Saturdays: CHS open 9-1
    • Outside of those hours, utilize the two remote services (if you’re a graduate or international student) mentioned above or call the hotline numbers. If it’s an emergency, Pullman regional hospital.
Fundraising? Projects with med school? How are you going to generate funds to add to the reserves?
  ● Cannot do a lot of the activities that the other organizations on campus can do since they are a medical facility. In talks with other people on campus to try and find some way.
  ○ Spouse services: do they need to have insurance to get the service?
    ■ Yes. They would only pay the $204 per semester health fee. They get the same services as all students.
  ○ If your spouse works for the university or Cougar Health Services, do they still get access to the services?
    ■ No
  ○ If clinical psych students need to see someone, would they see someone that they know?
    ■ No, usually they are deferred to someone else.
  ○ Are you allowed to use the cougar health parking when you go to counseling?
    ■ Yes, for anyone utilizing services of CHS.
  ○ Question copay and non-electronic billing for graduate insurance causing issues with payments.
    ■ Not familiar with that but will look into it.
  ○ Graduate students whose families or spouses are not fluent in English. Are there interpretative services? Answer is not clear on the website.
    ■ Will look into that.
  ○ Opting out of the health program, specifically for vet students who have other insurance and are forced to use the school insurance first. Any updates?
    ■ The situation hasn’t been resolved and Renee will follow up on that.
  ○ Mental health services and the demand not being able to be met (waitlist and limited number of sessions). Solution proposed - hiring additional specialists?
    ■ There is still a max number of sessions
    ■ There is also now group counseling in the evenings Monday through Thursdays (new this semester)
    ■ Still challenged with hiring but they are still able to meet the demand in terms of the number of sessions and not having a waitlist. There will be times when a waitlist will occur, but they will meet everyone’s needs eventually.
  ○ What kind of options are there for R&E students who are away from Pullman? Spouses?
    ■ The online services (HealthiestYou)
Not sure if spouse services are available to R&E students, but should be since they pay a health fee.

- United Health Care Student Resources - right now the website says no current coverage exists?
  - Will look into that but you still have access to the services. It is just an electronic technicality that is beyond their control.
  - Issues are also occurring during winter break and they will look into that.
- In the future, please reach out to Renee via email or other means of communications. Also utilize Amir, David and Josh since they meet frequently with CHS.

- August 4th - August 23rd, 2018 - created a social media plan for the months of August and September and scheduled programming and PDI events posts for Facebook and Twitter

Director of Grants Report – Miles Sari

- Awarded $4896.58 in reimbursement funding to Summer 3 applicants; 15 applications were submitted - 11 were approved, 14 were declined for various issues (submitted application during wrong application period, did not blind supporting documents, etc.). Summer 3 applications were our first travel awards for FY 2019.
- Awarded $18,202.99 in reimbursement funding to Summer 1 and 2 applicants. This funding was from FY 2018.
- Got in touch with Zoomgrants about issues we had been having with notifying applicants; Zoom Grants has tentatively resolved the issue. I also asked Zoomgrants about how to get college/department name into data reports for travel coordinators. They are working on a solution. Nonetheless, Zoomgrants is still trash.
- I made some changes to the Zoom Grants application. Specifically, I incorporated the rubric criteria into the scoring sheet on Zoomgrants. This should help make the reviewing process a bit smoother. I also clarified some of the policies in the application instructions (blind policy, submitting incorrect versions of forms, etc.).
- Throughout the summer Amir, David, Josh, and I reviewed the applications for Summer 1, Summer 2, and Summer 3 applications. Summer 4 applications will be reviewed by the new senators who are assigned to the grant committee.
- During the summer I made some updates to the Zoom Grants application. Specifically, I added some new questions/sections to the “Graduate Students Who Presented” portion of the application. I added one section that would allow applicants to list other papers they presented at the conference. I also added a section that allows applicants to indicate if their applications received any awards. We added these questions so we can start collecting some data for future reference. This information may also get factored into application scores at some point.
- David and I are close to finalizing a monthly award budget for FY 2019. With the change from semester to monthly review periods, we need to make sure we have enough funds to last us through next June.

Director of University Affairs Report – Carolina Silva

- 8/14: Met with Dean Trevisan from the College of Education along with Amir (President), Courtney Benjamin (Senator) & Carolina Silva (Rep), and Rachel Wong (Senator).
- 8/14: Met with David Silva to go over the details for my position and duties.
- Attended the first Graduate Students in Education (GSE) social and introduced myself in my role as College Rep to approximately 30 graduate student attendees
- 8/11: Responded to student emails regarding concerns about their student rights
- 8/16: Contacted our college coordinator to identify a best way to communicate with all graduate students in the college
Director of Internal Affairs Report – Susan Williams

- Met with Amir, David, and Josh over the summer to discuss the position duties and questions I had regarding files in the Google Drive.
- Attempted to create a unified report of the past recent elections based on documentation.
  - Found gaps in documentations and filing duplications, which I have begun to remedy.
- Read the Bylaws and Constitution to become familiar with them.
  - Attempted to create a timeline of changes to the B&C proposed, approved, and denied over the past several years. Realized this is way too big of a project for one person, and tabled it for now.
- Updated, processed, and reviewed the Special Election applications on Cougsync with David.
  - Specifically updated question content, dates, and links.
- Along with David, contacted Senators who were part of the Special Election.
- Began identifying information which needs updating ie. content on the website. Am in the process of creating a report for Ralph and David.
- Met with Theresa Pfaff and Kjelda Berg, Academic Coordinators of the Graduate School, to discuss the three programs within the college and how best to represent each.
- Attended the first Molecular Plant Science’s Graduate Student Organization (MPS-GSO) meeting of Fall to introduce myself as College Rep and make connections within the program.

Director of Programming Report – Veneice Guillory-Lacy

- On Tuesday, Aug. 14th we met with Mike Trevisan who is the Dean of the College of Education. I, along with Amir (President), Courtney Benjamin (Senator) & Carolina Silva (Rep), and Rachel Wong (Senator).
- We met with the Dean to discuss issues that our constituents have voiced concerning budget cuts, the lack of TA/GA positions, faculty & staff cuts, and travel assistance for conferences.
- The meeting went well and the end result was a monthly meeting with the Dean to begin communication and a working relationship.

Director of Strategic Planning & Scholarship – Hongda Ren
